Democratic Convention Under Way, With Old Sol Joining to Make it Hot

Madison Square Garden Jammed With Curious and Temperature at 90.

HULL NEAR COLLAPSE

Chairman Pale and Haggard, Following Breakdown Yesterday, and Wife Stay With Him as He Mounts Platform; Cardinal Hayes Prays.

By United Press.
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, June 24.—The Democratic convention battle of 1924 is on.
In a temperature ranging around 90 degrees and in an atmosphere of still higher tension, Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, called the convention to order at 12:44 o'clock (daylight saving time) and what promised to be the most memorable season in the party's history got under way.

It required several moments for Hull to get order and then he introduced Cardinal Patrick Hayes to give the invocation. Hayes prayed for abundant benediction upon this country.

Miss Anna Case, Metropolitan opera star, sang the "Star Spangled Banner."

It was a good-natured crowd in a merry mood that assembled in the convention hall, not much in the smiling countenances of the young and old male delegates to indicate strife ahead. There was nothing quarrelsome in the faces of the women delegates—many strikingly beautiful in dress and hat setting of colors, lavenders, yellows, greens and whites.

Looking down on the delegates were packed galleries, also sparkling with the colors of feminine wear and the selected groups who sat on the platform, many of whom were women.

At noon time, the hour set for calling the convention to order, Chairman Hull, who emerged from a state of near collapse as a result of his work and worry, appeared on the platform. Mrs. Hull, who has been with him constantly since he broke down yesterday, remained at his side. Hull was quite pale.

Ranged about him on the platform were party leaders and celebrities. Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy, intoned a prayer, shaking hands with old acquaintances. Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, as usual was the center of a laughing group.

A huge crowd gathered in Madison Square Park across the street to hear the proceedings which were transmitted through an amplifier. Similar crowds gathered in Central Park and City Hall Park, several miles away, to hear developments by radio.

Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, and one of the leaders of the Ohio delegation, mingled with friends on the floor. He is working for James M. Cox. His speech, placing Cox in nomination is awaited as one of the high spots of the convention.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, June 24.—In an address abounding in humor, satire and invective Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi sounded the keynote speech of the Democratic National Convention here today, establishing clear government as the foremost issue upon which the Democrats will go before the people next fall.

"Forty-eight years ago in St. Louis," he said, "the hosts of democracy met in convention to dedicate themselves to purging corruption from the public service. We meet today for a re-dedication to the same purpose."

That was the outstanding theme of his address—and woven through it was a denunciation of the Mellon tax plan, ridicule of the Administration's foreign policy, satire at a situation in which "Congress does not lead the President and the President does not lead Congress"—and scathing references to oil.

"There was corruption then—48 years ago," he said. "There is a saturation of corruption now. There were disgraced public officials then, repudiated by their party and under arrest. But today Paul goes unmolested on his ranch in New Mexico; Daugherty sits with Presidential approval at Cleveland and Daugherty's attorney was chairman of the committee created to oil the steam roller of the generation."

Harrison denounced the last three years of Republican administration. He spoke of the "rotting foreign policy of the Hughes-Harding-Coolidge" government and the Garden, thinking of the League of Nations yelled its approbation.

He gave the Democrats of Congress the credit for offsetting tax reduction, denouncing the late Mellon plan as an iniquitous financial scheme for the relief of the wealthy only. He praised Senator Simmons, the Democratic

BRYAN SLEEPING IN HIS CLOTHES, READY TO ANSWER ANY ALARM

NEW YORK, June 24.—When he was asked today whether he expected to make any speeches in the convention, William Jennings Bryan replied:
"I am like a volunteer fireman. I hope there will be no alarm, but I am ready to fight a conflagration. I am sleeping in my clothes."

McAdoo Makes New Gains, His Manager Claims

McADOO HEADQUARTERS, New York, June 24.—McAdoo will elicit within 120 votes of the Democratic presidential nomination on the fifth ballot, was the claim advanced today by managers of the leading candidate just before the opening of the convention. The new strength he said to have been garnered in last-minute deals with instructed and favorite son delegations. It will begin to display itself on the third ballot and will come with a rush on the fourth, according to McAdoo enthusiasts.

SMITH HEADQUARTERS, New York, June 24.—When the National Democratic Convention opened today, William G. McAdoo was away out in the lead, with Governor Smith a poor second on the face of existing figures. He has behind him only the solid delegation of New York, his own state, but sections of New England will line up with the Empire state and on the first ballot Smith will poll nearly 200, his managers claim. As nearly as it can be figured Smith will receive the following votes on the second ballot: New York, 30; Massachusetts, 35; Pennsylvania, 35; Colorado, 6; Connecticut, 10; Illinois, 35; Wisconsin, 3.

DESPERATE EFFORT MADE TO SIDETRACK THE KLAN ISSUE

NEW YORK, June 24.—In their desperate efforts to divert the minds of delegates from the bitter fight over the Klan, Democratic leaders today succeeded in bringing to the fore the League of Nations, taxes, tariff, and farm relief.

To this end Chairman Cordell Hull of the National Committee, made public a letter from Colonel M. M. House, urging the adoption of a plank pledging the Democratic Party to advocate the United States joining the league as an associate member. Thus, House, who is now in Europe, pointed out that the fear of entangling alliances would be dispelled.

While the McAdoo and anti-McAdoo factions continued to quarrel over the proposed plank mentioning the Klan by name other leaders who are looking for a winning issue in the campaign put forward further tax reduction, adjustment of the tariff so as to lower the cost of living and practical farm relief.

No Fireworks Before Fourth, Keffers Says

BURGESS W. U. Keffers of South Connellsville has put a ban on fireworks. "The sale of fireworks prior to July 3 in South Connellsville will not be tolerated," Burgess Keffers said. "Neither will the shooting of fireworks be permissible before 1 o'clock Friday morning, July 4."

The Burgess added that the store proprietors should be careful in selecting the size of fireworks they are ordering, as there is a limit to the size. Concluding he said, "Violations will be prosecuted."

WILL VISIT FRANCE.

Former Connellsville Students Sail From New York on July 6.

R. Christy Hilliard and J. Schroyer Graham, former students of the Connellsville High School, left Sharon, the home of the latter, for a trip through the eastern part of the States, after which they will go to New York, from which city they will sail on July 6 for France, where they expect to spend the summer, returning for the fall term of school.

J. Schroyer Graham is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Graham of Sharon, formerly of Connellsville.

His Acute Appendicitis.

Lillian Blakely, nine years old, colored, of Connellsville, R. D. No. 1, was admitted to the Connellsville State Hospital last night and underwent an operation for acute appendicitis.

CLEARING WRECK OF SLIGO STEEL PLANT UNDER WAY

No Definite Announcement as to Future But Prospect Looks Bright.

200 READY FOR WORK

Work of cleaning up the wreck left by the fire which destroyed the Sligo Mill of the Lockhart Iron & Steel Company here several months ago was begun today. A handful of men was given employment on that job and will be occupied for a month, or a little longer, as is required. Everything ruined by the flames will be scrapped and shipped away. The coal pile has already been nearly cleaned up.

J. Porter Gillespie, manager of the mill, said yesterday he had no intention of the future of the plant; that industry is at low ebb just now and the plant might not be running even if it were in shape. Nevertheless he said the plant could be rebuilt here at less cost than anywhere else by reason of the fact that the foundations were in and that frequently considerable trouble is experienced in getting these built for a furnace.

Much of the machinery is wrecked beyond repair. All the steam and air lines are completely down and nothing is left of the motors but the housings.

An indication of the industrial condition in this region was glimpsed by a visit to the mill grounds yesterday. During the forenoon there were approximately 200 men, the majority of them former Sligo employees, waiting to ask for work. This line-up was present throughout the afternoon.

Some were on beat as early as 5 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Gillespie said he thoroughly wished he could rebuild and operate the plant.

W. H. KERNS, WEST PENN. PENSIONER, CALLED BY DEATH

William H. Kerns, 65 years old, of near Lehigh, died at 3 o'clock this morning from heart disease. He had been ill for about a year but was confined to his bed only since Sunday. He was well known in Connellsville and throughout this region, being a veteran employee of the West Penn. Railway Company.

Up until the time of his retirement on a pension a year ago Mr. Kerns was car inspector for the company, working at the West Side yards. In the early days of the company he ran a street car. He had been with the West Penn for 33 years.

Mr. Kerns was twice married. One son, Andrew W. Kerns of the West Side, was the only child born to the union. His wife died in April, 1882. He re-married and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Kerns, and several sons and daughters. They are Mrs. James Linderman of Lehigh, No. 1, Mrs. Smith Butterworth of Sayreville, Mrs. Louis Rodge of Connellsville, Charles of Lehigh, No. 1, Grant of the West Side, John, Ruth, Margaret and Dorothy, all at home. One brother, Sampson Kerns, and seven grandchildren, also survive. A brother, John Kerns, died on May 9, last.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

41 PRISONERS ESCAPE JAIL IN TENNESSEE

By United Press.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 24.—Forty-one prisoners escaped their way from the Shelby county jail last night. Four were captured during the night and deputy sheriffs were seeking the others during today.

Shelby County Sheriff Knight said that the whole delivery was unopposed by H. D. Nolan, who is under sentence of imprisonment for 30 years for forgery and violation of the federal anti-narcotic law. The prisoners escaped by digging a hole in a three-foot brick wall, using pieces of an iron cot, a table knife and a fork.

FRANK B. SPRINGER KILLED

Uniontown Man's Skull Fractured When He Falls From Truck.

Frank B. Springer, 51 years old, well-known resident of Uniontown, was almost instantly killed Monday when he fell from a truck.

Vortigo which resulted from stomach trouble, from which he had been suffering for a week, caused him to topple from the seat of the truck, his head striking on a stone step. His skull was fractured.

Coal Miner Killed.
PITTSBURGH, June 24.—Herbert White, aged 56, a coal miner, residing in New Kensington, was killed instantly at 11:30 A. M. today when he was crushed between a coal car and a rib of the mine in which he was at work for the Diamond Coal & Coke Company at Barking. His neck was broken.

MAUGHAN'S COAST-TO-COAST FLIGHT OPENS NEW ERA IN AMERICAN AERONAUTICS

Army Officials See Time When Fleet May Sweep Across Country in Day.

By United Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—Faster almost than the sun itself, Lieutenant Russell Maughan flew by daylight from New York to San Francisco Monday and the dream of American aviation of a dawn-to-dusk transcontinental flight became a reality.

A new era of aviation has been opened by the venture. Army and civilian flying men declared today as congratulations were showered on the daring officer who left New York 2:55, eastern standard time, and arrived at San Francisco 21 hours and 45 minutes later. What Army men visualize is a fleet of airplanes on one coast called by wire or wireless to the defense of the other and spanning the United States in a single day.

It was past dusk when Maughan's flight came to an end at Orsney Field, but airmen pointed out that the sun was up 37 minutes before he started off and that he actually arrived 18 minutes ahead of schedule.

Maughan was "air sick" a couple of dozen times. He ate little between the time he left New York and his arrival. His face went white, eyes flaming and red-rimmed, hands trembling with sheer fatigue, the airman was bundled off to bed after he sketched a brief autographic word picture of his speech-making flight.

"In the mountain country we made 110 miles an hour; over level country faster time, better than 150 miles."

"We" some one asked.
"Me and my plane," Maughan answered.

Hardest-Fought Convention In Years Faces Delegates

JOHN THE BAPTIST DAY WILL BE GREAT ONE FOR ST. RITA

West Side Catholic Church Plans Numerous Events for Next Monday.

FIREWORKS IN EVENING

The formal celebration of the anniversary of St. John the Baptist by St. Rita Roman Catholic Church, West Side, Connellsville, on Sunday and Monday, June 25 and 26, will be in all probability, the hardest fought Democratic convention in many years.

Pushing clearing crowds began to appear upon Madison Square Garden the campaign site, in the early morning hours, and long before 11 A. M. the hour of meeting, practically every seat in the great auditorium was occupied.

There was excitement everywhere in the convention hall there was the triumphant symphony of thousands of voices, the shuffle of feet, the odor of perfume and many bodies and an atmosphere as tense as fiddle-string.

If the delegates themselves could forget that they are here on business, New York wouldn't let them. New York is interested in the Democratic National Convention—its own son—Al Smith is one of the most prominent candidates.

And so, along Broadway, the late night-birds were to be seen about, stinking in the morning sun, but determined to be in on the fun.

The New York police force certainly the handsomest constabulary in the world was out in force around the Garden, keeping the crowds in order and guarding the doors.

When Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, finally advanced in the front of the speaker's platform, the crowd in the great auditorium came to attention, but the rumble of voices persisted.

Down on the main floor where the delegates sit, the banners of states came back in rows to the far reaches of the hall's cavern. Iowa, Mississippi, California—all the rest, each delegation grouped in one solid block of men and women.

The gayety, however, came from the galleries. It was the banners there and the cheering mobs and the tactics of shouting from balcony rails that showed the visitors how popular Al Smith is in his home town.

Smith's banners were scattered everywhere. There were, too, of his foremost opponent—the California, William Gibbs McAdoo.

Chairman Hull swung his gavel down exactly as the clock struck eleven—and long minutes later, when the hubbub subsided, the Democratic National Convention was actually under way.

The next move was a traditional one in the history of conventions—the invocation of Divine blessing upon the gathering. There was comparative silence while the prayer arose, except for the nervous movement of shifting feet.

For a moment, party differences were obliterated and only country remained while the audience stood during the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

And then the business of the convention began. National Chairman Hull presented Charles Greenhouse of Indiana, secretary of the Democratic National Committee. He read the call for the convention, which is the official warrant for the gathering.

Then the slate of the convention's temporary officers, including Senator "Pat" Harrison the sharp-tongued Mississippi orator who as chairman, is the official "loyalizer" of the Democratic presidential campaign, was presented to the delegates and Harrison's admirers in the galleries.

New York Gathering Fast Becoming a "Band Wagon" Scramble Among Delegates

Firemen Look For Thousands At Their Picnic

This amusement committee of the New Haven Horse Company and the Firemen's Band will meet this evening at 7:30, to complete plans for the picnic which will be held on July 1 at Kenwood Park. At such reduced rates on the railroad, it is expected that several thousand people will attend on that day and the committee is making plans to care for such a crowd.

The firemen and band have picked what is regarded as the best park in Western Pennsylvania for their picnic. Kenwood having many more added amusements for this year's pleasure. There will be concerts by the band during the day. There will also be dancing in the afternoon and evening, with a 10-piece orchestra. Other attractions will be the ball game in Pittsburgh.

Kenwood this year has a special lot of amusements for the children and tickets for those are being given out free with others that are being sold.

The firemen have on sale, as well as all the band men, tickets for the amusements, which are being sold at a reduced price up until the time the train leaves, after that the full admission to the different amusements will be charged.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The Democratic National Convention in New York today, as delegates from 15 states and six territories met in national convention to choose a presidential and vice-presidential candidate.

Who these nominees will be and upon what platform they will run are the problems. But what every one knows, that this will be the hardest fought Democratic convention in many years.

Cautiously Withhold Support Until They are Sure of Picking a Winner.

ALL KINDS OF STRATEGY

Being Employed by McAdoo and the Forces Armed Against Him; Klan Contraverted SM's Casts Its Lamentable Shadow Over Kenwood Camp.

By DAY L. LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1924, by The Courier.
NEW YORK, June 24.—Although the balloting for nomination will not come this Thursday or Friday a number of things are developing as the delegates of the Democratic National Convention assemble which give an interesting line on what is going to happen.

First of all, William Gibbs McAdoo and Governor Al Smith together control more than 400 of the 1,098 delegates. The so-called "dark horses" of whom there is an abundance, depend entirely for their opportunity on a break-up of the Smith and McAdoo forces. But no convention strategy does not move as fast as it will when the balloting begins and only if every leader could appraise at its true value the promise of support he has been given would it be possible to form a definite estimate of the strength.

To date there is a growing combination which has for its primary object the defeat of McAdoo because until he is eliminated there is the chance of Smith or any of the dark horses. So the entire field has been combated for a working coalition which will operate constantly against McAdoo in as many ballots as shall be necessary.

The hand of the anti-McAdoo forces having been shown, his supporters have redoubled their efforts to hold their lines and even McAdoo himself has been receiving delegates for the last 24 hours trying to win them in person about the need for a progressive candidate. McAdoo's speech denouncing certain New York newspapers for alleged unfair treatment is also a part of the pre-convention strategy, the same representing an effort to win friends on the ground that the cards are stacked against him.

In the middle of it all comes the New York World with an editorial supporting Al Smith furnishing more ammunition for the anti-McAdoo combination, for while there are a number of delegates who are by no means converted to the idea of nominating Smith, they have first to be convinced that McAdoo should be deserted.

There is no doubt that McAdoo has lost several delegates since last Saturday but there is also every reason to believe he

MANY DROWN WHEN CHINESE RIVER GOES OUT OF ITS BANKS

SIANGHAI, June 21.—Many people have been drowned and property already damaged thousands of dollars by the most disastrous flood in the history of the Min River, according to advice today. The city of Fu Chow, the capital of the province of Fokien, 35 miles up the Min River from its mouth, is three-quarters under water. Shipping is menaced by log rafts of the lumber companies which are being swirled down by the flood. "The rice crop is almost entirely ruined," a dispatch says, "and many tea plantations are under water. Higher water is feared tonight. It is still raining heavily."

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN

Tells of Mrs. Vogel's Terrible Suffering and How She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Michigan.—"My troubles were severe pains in my back and terrible bearing-down pains in my right side, also headache and sleepless nights. I first began having troubles when I was 15, and they have increased as I grew older. A little booklet was left at my door, and I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women and decided to try it. After the first week I could go to sleep every night and I stopped having that nervous feeling and got a better appetite. The doctor had always said that an operation was the only thing that would help me, but I never had any faith in an operation. Since the Vegetable Compound has started helping me I do not suffer the severe pains, feel stronger, and am able to do my own work. I am more than glad to tell my friends that it helps where other medicines have failed." Mrs. Gus Voigt, 608 Polouze Street, Detroit, Michigan.

A record of fifty years service must convince women of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

has picked up several he did not have before. Whether there is a net loss or net gain is difficult even for his own managers to determine but, this correspondent knows of at least two delegations held for McAdoo under the unite rule which will break away after two or three ballots.

This is to a great extent a "band wagon" convention. Many delegations are looking cautiously about refusing to commit themselves definitely in any direction but aiming to cast their support where it will stand the best chance of being rewarded by the winning candidate if he should be fortunate in the autumn elections.

Some of the anti-McAdoo leaders can show you on paper that they have more than one-third of the delegates assured to support McAdoo's nomination but it would appear that the coalition is not as strong as it was four years ago in San Francisco as the leadership of the anti-McAdoo forces is not yet functioning smoothly.

There are ever so many delegates who will wait to see if McAdoo can cross the majority mark before giving him any support, and the report of the McAdoo managers just now is to make as big a showing on the first five ballots as possible so as to keep the anti-McAdoo forces from becoming too strong. In order to do this the word has been passed that if McAdoo should be eliminated he would cast his strength in this or that direction. A number of the delegates which have favorable sons are being kept in line by such tactics. Indeed, the McAdoo forces are establishing an entente with every state they can in the hope at least of preventing the Smith vote from ever passing McAdoo.

A recognition of psychological factors and a skillful handling of delegates can change any preconceived plan and can even defeat logic. The McAdoo camp has in it many able generals who know Democratic politics from "A" to "Z."

Many of the delegates are last ditch men. And while it may be true that a one-third group has been organized to defeat McAdoo, it is also true that McAdoo can deadlock the convention by a one-third group of his own before yielding. Should the McAdoo boom collapse after several ballots, one promise to which many McAdoo men testify is that Senator Carter Glass of Virginia would be favored. Glass is acquiring much strength in this respect especially as many anti-McAdoo men have been talking of John W. Davis so much that the West Virginians may truly be said to be a strong third. To weaken the McAdoo forces, the anti-McAdoo forces are whispering rumors of Davis.

In fact it looks now as if the opposition to McAdoo may even try to crush him by starting the balloting for Davis early enough to bring him up close to the former secretary of the treasury and even perhaps permitting him to pass McAdoo. Davis is not an active candidate here but he is being used as a weapon of attack. He has the strong and distinguished support of several delegates but this is one of the reasons why he is being held by the anti-McAdoo forces as a means of disintegrating the McAdoo boom. There is a good deal of genuine sentiment for Davis in the ranks of the McAdoo followers, a fact which the opponents of McAdoo have been quick to capitalize.

William Jennings Bryan is opposed to Davis on the ground that he has been an attorney for the Morgan interests. But this as well as the old issue have been temporarily overshadowed by the Ku Klux Klan controversy. The forces opposed to McAdoo insist he has the support of the Klan and since he has not specifically repudiated the Klan, the opposition to McAdoo is thereby gaining strength for unquestionably this convention is anti-Ku Klux Klan and will not truckle to get its support.

Policeman Catches Baby Falling From Fire Escape

Topska, Kan.—"Bob" Garrod, policeman, saved an unidentified baby from being seriously hurt on a fire escape at 215 West Fifth street the other afternoon. The child had been playing on the fire escape about fifteen feet from the ground, and as she started down the steps, slipped and fell. One of the children with her caught her hand as she went through the ladder, and started screaming.

Garrod heard the screams and ran across the street from the police station just in time to catch the little girl as she dropped. She probably would have sustained serious injuries as the niter over which she was suspended is narrow.

Persepiration

Persepiration may cause trouble and discomfort now and then, but if you did not perspire you would die. For reaching up through the various layers of the skin to the surface are enough sweat glands, if placed end to end, to cover a distance of 80 miles. Through these glands is continuously passing off all the waste of the body which is not passed off by the kidneys. If the skin is cool and dry enough to allow easy evaporation, no discomfort is caused. In hot weather the sweat glands in the skin and has to be wiped off. We drink more water in hot weather and sweat a little more because there is more waste to dispose of, but even in the middle of winter perspiration is going on all over our bodies almost as actively as in mid-summer. The only difference is that it evaporates easily in cold weather and we don't notice it.

Has New Heel Made of Flesh of His Own Leg

Baltimore, Md.—One of the rarest operations in plastic surgery in the history of Johns Hopkins hospital was performed recently by Dr. William F. Reinhardt, resident surgeon, in an attempt to restore the heel of Eric Hamilton, whose foot was crushed in an elevator accident. Doctor Reinhardt announced that the operation's first stages were successful.

Doctor Reinhardt first removed the tuberculous part of the heel. Then the calf of Hamilton's other leg was dissected to the bone its entire length, and the foreshortened heel inserted in this wound.

Hamilton will be compelled to remain in one position from three weeks to a month, during which, if the operation continues successful, the flesh of the heel and the flesh of the other leg will grow together, giving Hamilton a new heel from the flesh of his leg.

When this adhesion process is complete another operation, separating the heel from the leg, will be performed, and Hamilton will have only the scar in the back of his leg to show for his injury, Doctor Reinhardt declared.

Sister Gives Memphis Rainey's Hunt Trophies

Memphis, Tenn.—All of the hunting trophies of the late Paul Rainey, noted big game hunter, including hundreds of specimens from many countries, have been presented to the city of Memphis by Mrs. Grace Rainey Rogers, sister of Mr. Rainey and heiress to his fortune. Miss Rogers also announced an 11,000-acre estate at Tippecanoe, Miss., Mr. Rainey's hunting preserve, has been set aside for an association of fox hunters in memory of her brother.

Got Bullet in Chest but Saved His Friend

A duel was fought in a forest on the outskirts of Berlin recently between two men more than forty years old who had been lifelong friends, according to a Berlin letter in the Continental edition of the London Mail. They are both bachelors, but one, a merry squire, fell in love with a pretty girl of twenty-one and was determined to marry her. The other, a wealthy business man, was certain the pretty girl would make his friend unhappy. He noticed, for instance, that when the three of them were in restaurants the pretty girl returned the admiring glances of young men at other tables.

Love is blind and the squire saw nothing of this. His friend, not understanding the danger of interfering in other people's love affairs, hit on a plan to save him. He sent the pretty girl a love letter inviting her to meet him and signed it with a fictitious name. Two love letters had no effect, but the third brought that naughty girl to the rendezvous, and he was there to see her arrive. He went home chuckling and told her how he had tricked her and warned her to leave his friend alone.

But she, with that touch of genius which deceives mere men every time, went straight off to her squire with tears in her eyes and the letters in her hand.

The result was the duel and a bullet in the chest of the kind but blundering friend. The story has, however, a highly moral ending. Overcome with grief at the sight of his friend bleeding on the ground, the squire agreed to have nothing more to do with the pretty girl.

Handkerchief's History

The handkerchief is one of the refinements of Roman civilization. It came into general use to polite society during the reign of Henry VIII of England. It is probably connected with ecclesiastical costume and may have been an outgrowth of the maniple, which was originally of linen and worn over the fingers of the left hand, and used for the same purpose for which the handkerchief is now used. The pocket handkerchief was used to a certain extent in France in the eighteenth century. At this period handkerchiefs were richly ornamented. Women adopted the use of colored handkerchiefs as soon as the taking of snuff became an established custom.

VENTILATING
PORCH SHADES

To get real, continuous, everyday, summer-long pleasure from your Porch—it must be protected from the sun. But simple protection from the sun does not make your Porch altogether habitable. You must also have ventilation! The hot air must move off from the ceiling of the Porch and be replaced by fresh air.

The VUDOR patented Ventilating Porch Shade is the ONLY shade with a Ventilator woven into the shade itself—insuring a perfect circulation of air. Then, too, they will enable you to enjoy cool out-door comfort with indoor privacy.

They are made in beautiful, permanent oil colors—choice of brown or green. Each shade has a 7 ft. 6 in. drop and can be had in the following widths:—

|-----------------------|-------------------------|
| 4 ft. wide - - $3.90 | 8 ft. wide - - $ 8.75 |

FAYETTE COUNTY TO SEND 350 TO STATE C. E. CONVENTION

PITTSBURGH, June 24.—With two weeks remaining before the State Christian Endeavor Convention meets here, indications are that 15,000 delegates from all of Pennsylvania's 67 counties will attend. A. H. Brownell, state president, declared.

Nearly every county in the State has been heard from by Mrs. Charles H. Van Horn, registration committee chairman, and in at least three instances the counties will exceed their quotas.

These counties are all in Eastern Pennsylvania—Chester, which will send 300 delegates; Lackawanna, which will send 150; and Lancaster, which will send 170.

Philadelphia county itself plans to send from 500 to 1,000. They will come well drilled and organized, ready to pit their county wall against that of Allegheny county. Washington county will send 400; Dauphin, 300; Westmoreland, 400; Berks, 150;

Bloch, 250; Butler, 250; Delaware, 200; Fayette, 350; Indiana, 200; Lehigh, 200; Montgomery, 250; Northampton, 200, according to Mrs. Van Horn.

The Pittsburg gathering is to be the greatest assemblage of Christian young men and women ever held in any state and is designed to show the caliber of its membership. The Christian Endeavor movement was born in Portland, Me., in 1851. Its founder, Dr. Francis B. Clark of Boston, will be on the speakers' program. Another speaker will be Curtis D. Wilbur, Secretary of the Navy, and still others will include renowned churches of all denominations.

Features of the convention are to be a parade of 20,000 through downtown Pittsburg and a great mission pageant, the first of its kind, at Forbes Field, the local ball park.

Has Your Wife Gone To The Country?

While the wife and family are taking their summer vacations seems to us to be an opportune time for friend husband to spring a great big pleasant surprise by having the old heating plant revamped into an up-to-date Vapor Heating System or a new one installed as the case might be.

Or if the wife prefers to stay at home while this work is being done we will guarantee to get along with the wife as well as our usual unconditional guarantee of the heating apparatus.

And while you are at it might just as well install the new sanitary kitchen sink and new bath room fixtures. Bright idea? Yes.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Love of Rain.

One Mother Says,
I have always loved rain myself and so I could never understand why my little daughter feared it. So whenever I saw a rain coming I gathered all the children on a side porch well sheltered from the weather. We sat comfortably in rockers, and softly wrapped in shawls when the weather was cool. Then as the rain came on I talked about the need of it, the thirsty places, the low bed of streams and the overheated atmosphere. Then I explained thunder and lightning and their sequence. Sometimes I'd repeat to them a short poem about the rain. My daughter now enjoys rain as much as I do.

Children make constipation a habit—relieve them with Kellogg's Bran

Children run themselves terribly by ignoring nature's demands. They bring constipation on themselves. They suffer the many other diseases which can be traced to constipation. Immediate steps should be taken to rid them and keep them free from this disease.

It takes ALL bran to be 100 per cent effective. That's what Kellogg's is—ALL bran. That's why doctors everywhere recommend Kellogg's. That's why Kellogg's Bran carries a money-back guarantee to bring permanent relief. If eaten regularly, in the most chronic cases of constipation. That's why Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, has brought glorious, glowing health to thousands—because it is ALL bran.

No matter how long one has suffered with constipation, Kellogg's Bran will bring permanent relief IF EATEN EVERY DAY—at least two tablespoonfuls—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Kellogg's Bran is delicious. It has a crisp, nut-like flavor that simply delights the taste. It is a wonderful surprise if one has been used to ordinary, unpalatable bran.

There are many ways to serve Kellogg's Bran. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Look for the recipes on every package and try it in muffins, bread, griddle cakes, etc.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, is made in Battle Creek and is sold by grocers everywhere. It is served by the leading hotels and clubs.

IN TORTURE WITH ECZEMA

On Back of Head and Under Arm, Cuticura Healed.

"From early infancy I was troubled with eczema on the back of my head and under right arm. I was in terrible torture, and my mother had to do my hands. When I perceived it was worse and would rise up in little simply blisters, it caused my hair to fall out. The itching and burning were terrible. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I purchased, too, and after using two cakes of soap and two boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. John Horsfield, R. F. D. 4, Newton, N. J., Oct. 6, 1935.

Rely on Cuticura Soap Ointment and Talcum to keep your skin clear.

Democratic Convention Under Way, With Old Sol Joining

Financial expert, and father of the proposed 40 per cent surtax. He told the delegates that the Democratic party has always been the party of the people, by the people, and for the people.

And then he came to the climax of his speech—that portion in which vindictive eloquence was given full play—the Congressional investigations.

While the galleries rocked with tumult, he described the Republican party as "a parcel of rascals," or words to that effect. He repeated the findings of the Teapot Dome committee, praised the work of Senator Tom Walsh, Montana, its prosecutor.

Nor did he forget to mention Forbes, former Attorney General Daugherty, Secretary Denby, Secretary Fall and others whose names have gained newspaper prominence as the result of the work of investigators.

Man With Large Sum In Small Currency Is Held by Police

State Police are holding Joseph Hyams who was apprehended yesterday when a trio, of which he was one, aroused suspicion by exchanging a large number of bills of a small denomination for bills of larger denomination. It is said that he may be one of a gang which held up St. Mary Saturday in a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad camp at Glensport.

The three men came to Connelville yesterday. The possession of a large number of small bills and their anxiety to exchange them led to suspicion. Detective Bert Ritchie apprehended them at the Baltimore & Ohio station, but two escaped. Hyams had in his possession nearly $400, all of which was in small bills. He also had a receipt for a money order for $200 which he had purchased here and made payable to himself in New York City.

The Paramount

LITTS GO—With Richard Talmadge in the stellar role, provides interesting entertainment today at the Paramount.

The story centers about this young man's exploits in a sleepy country town where circumstances have brought him in investigating some features of his father's business. His job turns out to be the showing up of a crooked mayor and his son. During the working out of an extremely lively plot Richard Talmadge is called upon to champion the sheriff of the town, who believes in kindness rather than the harshness of the law, and as the sheriff has a beautiful daughter you can imagine for yourself what the outcome is for Richard himself.

The comedy element has been stressed throughout to splendid purpose and there are as many genuine hearty laughs throughout the picture as there are thrills—and that is anything quite a little. The titles are especially fine almost every one of them being worth a laugh in itself.

In a distinguished supporting cast are such splendid artists as Eileen Percy, Tully Marshall, George Nichols, Al Freeman, John Steppine, Bruce Gordon and Matthew Boy.

Wednesday and Thursday, Kenneth Harlan will be seen in East Side West Side.

The Soisson

"IN THE PALACE OF THE KING"—In which Blanche Sweet, Hobart Bosworth, and other well known screen favorites appear in interesting roles in the featured picture today and tomorrow at the Soisson.

Blanche Sweet has in Goldwyn's screen version of the story, the role that Miss Allen played on the stage. It gives Miss Sweet one of her biggest opportunities and her characterization of the part is everywhere admirable and appealing. Edmund Lowe one of the handsomest leading men on screen or stage, is cast as her lover, "Don John" and acts with fervor and restraint. King Philip II who is jealous of the popularity of his brother with the Spanish public is finely delineated by Sam de Grasse. The part of Dolores, father who takes upon his own shoulders the guilt for the supposed murder of his daughter's lover, to save the King gives Hobart Bosworth one of the character roles which so delights in playing and in which he is incomparable. Other well known players who act important roles admirably are Aileen Pringle, Pauline Stark, William W. Monz, Lucien Littlefield and Charles Gray. June Mathis prepared the continuity and Lucien Andriot is responsible for the photography which is unusually beautiful. Thursday, Friday and Saturday Richard Dix will be seen in "Sin Flood."

The Orpheum

"HAPPINESS" showing today at the Orpheum is one of the best pictures shown at this theatre in months. Laurette Taylor, the popular stage and screen actress, appears in the leading role.

In this, her second picture for Metro, she has attained the goal she set for herself in "Peg"—the final development on the screen of the same wonderful case and naturalness which made her one of the best-loved stars of the stage, and made it possible for her to put over the whimsies concerning the lives of little poor girls and the optimism in their hearts.

The story of "Happiness" centers on the adventures of Jenny, a shop girl, when she is invited to the home of a wealthy society matron who has become bored with too much money and a lack of desire to do anything worth while in the world.

An exceptionally fine cast supports Miss Taylor. This is headed by Rodda Mopper and Cyril Chadwick is the two hated persons, whose mental viewpoint is refreshed by the little Irish girl, and Pat O'Malley, who loves her. Then there are Edith Yorke, Patterson, Dial, Laurence Grant, Marie Carillo, Charlotte Minneau and Charles Mallet.

Wednesday and Thursday Richard Dix and Lois Wilson will be seen in "Icebound."

The Acid Test

Jacy Kilgus opened his eyes to find himself in darkness, utter and complete except for a pinpoint of light streaming from far above. His head was throbbing and throbbing painfully. Something warm and moist dropped into his eyes, and when he put his hand up to investigate the cause he knew it must be blood from a wound.

Faintly the sound of voices and of harsh laughter drifted down to him. Presently this died away. The stillness was almost unbroken.

"Something laid me out, I reckon. Must have been a bad whack," he thought. He found a ridge above the temple which had been plowed through the thick curly hair. "Looks as though a flailing bullet hit me. Golden luck it didn't smash the job."

He moved. A sharp pain shot through his lower right leg. Trying to rise, he slipped down at once from a badly sprained ankle. Every muscle in his body ached, as if he had been jarred by a hard fall.

"Better have a look around first," he told himself. Crouching in his pocket, he found a match case and struck a light. What he saw made him shudder. From the ledge upon which he lay fell away a pile of bones, the bottom of which could only be guessed. His eyes, becoming accustomed to the darkness, made out that he was in some sort of shaft, thirty feet or more below the surface. Below him, the timbers had slipped and become jammed. Upon some of these he was resting. The splashed water, by preventing him from moving, had saved him from plunging down the well.

He held out a silver dollar and dropped it. From the time the coin took to strike the bottom, he was a hundred feet from the surface.

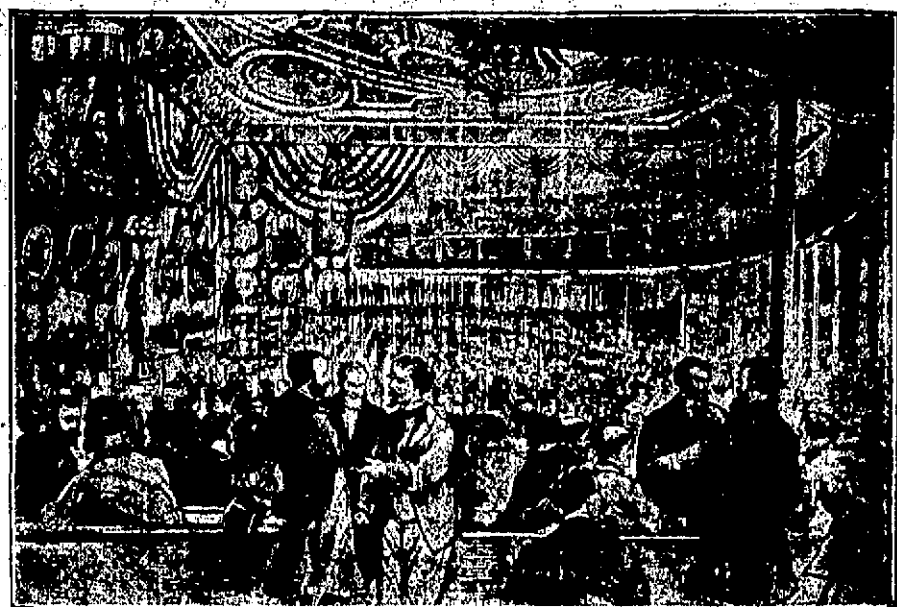

The start of a second match showed him a wall ladder leading down, but unfortunately it did not extend above him except in rotting fragments. What had happened he could guess. Supposing him to be dead, his comrades had dropped the body down this shaft. Not far from a moment did he doubt who they were. The voices had been unmistakably Cornish, and even without that evidence he would have guessed Pease and his partner as the guilty ones.

Since he could not go up he went down, moving warily as he did not know the timbers upon which he lay. Every rung of the ladder he tested with great care before he put his weight upon it. Back step of the journey down sent a throbbing pain from the right ankle, even though he rested his weight on his hands while he looked himself again to the last rung. It was by actual count the one hundred forty-third he stepped to the ground.

Another match showed him a drift running from the foot of the shaft. Along this he dragged himself slowly, uncertain of the surface, but determined to find out what possibility of escape his prison offered. For two hundred yards the tunnel led forward and brought him up sharply at an impasse. A cave-in blocked further advance.

"Check," Jack told himself aloud grimly. He knew now that his situation was a very serious one, for he had been flung alive into a grave that offered only a slight prospect of escape. He was without food, effectively cut off from the surface of the earth, and alone but those who had assaulted him knew that he was buried.

Tammany Hall During the Last Democratic Convention in New York

(From an Old Drawing in Harper's Weekly, 1863.)
The Democratic National Convention last met in New York in 1863 when Horatio Seymour, "war governor of New York was nominated in Tammany Hall as opponent of General U. S. Grant. The controlling factors of that convention were the "Big Four," composed of Bill ("Boss") Tweed, Mayor A. Oakley Hall, Peter B. Sweeney and Richard B. ("Slippery Dick") Connolly. August Belmont, chairman of the national committee, was one of the most liberal Wall Street angels of the party treasury. In those days there were no automobiles, elevated or subway trains—not even cabs or surface cars. There were only buses, victorias and old-fashioned legs for transportation about the city.

which he built to give light for the work. All through the night and till noon the following day he dug among the fallen rocks and dirt, cleaning this debris away after he had loosened it with his bare hands.

The impact of the fall when he had been thrown down the shaft had jarred him greatly. With the slightest movement of the body back and shoulder-ached, sending shoots of pain in protest to his brain. The sprained ankle he had bound tightly in a wet handkerchief, but every time his weight rested on that leg he had to grip his teeth. But it was not in him to quit. He stuck to his job till he had done the shift set himself.

At noon he crawled back to the foot of the shaft. He was fagged to exhaustion. For half an hour he lay stretched on his back with every muscle relaxed.

Presently he cut from his coat the pocket that contained the sandwich and divided the mash of ham and bread into two parts. One of these he ate. The other he returned to the coat.

Favoring his wicked ankle as best he could, Jack climbed the wall ladder to the ledge upon which he had found himself lying the previous night. Five minutes' examination of the walls showed him that there was no chance to reach the top of the shaft unaided.

He tested the jammed timbers to make sure they were secure before he put his weight upon them. During the next six hours he called aloud every few minutes to attract the attention of anyone who might chance to be passing near.

Toward evening he treated himself to his first cigar, making the most of the comfort that it gave him. When the stub grew to the point of the small blade of his knife so as not to miss a puff. What was left he wrapped in a pocket handkerchief for later use.

As the stars began to come out in the little patch of blue sky he could see just above his prison, Jack looked himself again to the foot of the shaft. Here he lay down a second time and within five minutes had fallen into a deep sleep.

About midnight he awakened and was aware at once of a ravenous hunger. He was still resolute to win a way out, though his knowledge pressed on him that his chances were slender at the best. Till morning he worked without a moment's rest. The fever in his ankle and the pain of the sprain had increased, but he could not afford to pay any attention to them. Blood from his scarred, torn hands ran down his wrist. Every muscle in his abused body ached. Still he stabbed with his knife into the earth that filled the tunnel and still he pulled the great rocks back with his shovel.

All his life he had fought for his own hand. He would not let himself believe fate had played as sorry a trick as to lock him alive into a tomb closed so tightly that he could not pry a way out.

When his watch told him it was eight o'clock he staggered to the shaft again and lay down on his back to rest. Before climbing to the platform above he finished the sandwich. He was very hungry and could have eaten enough for two men had he been given the opportunity. Again he hours he called every few minutes at the top of his voice.

In his vest pocket were a pencil and a notebook used for keeping the accounts of the highgraders with whom he did business. To pass the time he set down the story of the crime which had brought him here and his efforts to free himself.

After darkness fell he let himself down to the foot of the shaft and slept. Either from hunger or from fever in his ankle he slept brokenly. He was conscious of a little delirium in his waking spells, but the coming of midnight found him master of himself, though a grim light-headed.

Committee Is Named to Arrange Tennis Tourney

Local Event Will Be Held on Courts of Connelville Association.

PLAN INTER-CITY GAMES

At a meeting of the Connelville Tennis Association, held last night in the Unity Fraternity club rooms, arrangements for a club tournament, together with a number of other matters were taken up.

The tournament will be arranged by a committee named by President O. R. Herwick. The date for holding it was not set, this being left in the hands of the committee, depending entirely on what time will be necessary to line up the players.

Another committee to arrange for inter-city tournaments with such places as Brownsville, Uniontown and Scotland was also named. Only members in good standing will be permitted to play in these events.

Following the tournament a banquet will be held at which time the trophies won in the tourney will be awarded the victors.

Tennis here is gradually gathering headway. It got off to a slow start because of the exceptionally dismal weather during May but the recent sunshine has been bringing a big attendance to the local courts each day.

CAPTAIN GLASS AND DIVADIA INDEPENDENTS PLAY HERE JUNE 30

The Divadia Independents and Captain Glass Independents will meet Monday, June 30, at Fayette Field, as a special attraction in helping the St. Rita Roman Catholic Church celebrate St. John the Baptist's holiday. This will be the second game between the two teams, the glass blowers coping the first game in a slugging at the Dickerson Run Y. M. C. A. grounds. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock in order that the clash might not interfere with the other activities. A band concert will be given immediately after the ball game and at 9 o'clock, a wonderful display of fireworks will be made. The fireworks will be one of the largest displays ever known to the city, as the congregation has executed its quota for the fireworks fund.

Negotiations are under way to have the Dunbar Independents play at Fayette Field on Saturday evening, substituting for Smithfield. A game will be played, being called at 4 o'clock. The Youth Valley team has not the Dunbar Independents twice, making a 50-50 deal out of it.

It is probable that the Divadia Independents will play at Fayette Field, Wednesday, July 15, in helping the St. Rita Church in observing "Our Lady of Mount Carmel Day."

The two games will be the first played at Fayette Field after nearly three weeks, the Connelville Independents not having booked any games here. It is doubtful how soon another game will be played at Fayette Field. It is up to the fans to put the ball game on the "map" and the only way to do it is to attend the ball games.

In First Division. The fast, hard-hitting Trotter baseball team would like to meet some of the first-class teams in the coke region. The Trotter team has not been booking any games for more than one month, due to bad weather conditions prevailing. "It's either too hot or too wet," claims the Trotter publicity agent. Ed Dick Still in Running in Tennis Play at Pittsburg

Edward Dick, Jr. of this city, once more survived play in the West Penn tennis tournament being played in Pittsburg. He won yesterday from Robert Young, 6-8 and 6-7. He is today to engage in further play. Robert Herwick, who survived the first day's play, was eliminated yesterday by Arnold Silverman, 5-2 and 6-3.

Today in the doubles Ferguson and Naser play Dick and Herwick. They are in the lower half of the frame.

GOLF BALLS GETTING BETTER EVERY YEAR

Doctors Use Troughs of Mercury to Test Pellets.

Thanks to X-rays, golf balls get better every year. They drive further and retain their truth longer. And when they do become "nick" an operation performed in the early fall in restoring their balance, whereas they formerly had to be scrapped, says a Golf Ball Worker in the London Daily Mail.

The time which elapses between balance-testing and X-raying a golf ball down to the actual surgical operation necessary may not exceed two or three minutes, but the whole process is done with lightning.

First, any inaccuracy in a ball is determined by floating it in a trough of mercury. Immediately the heavy part comes in contact with the fluid the ball turns, away for a second and then remains at the bottom.

The ball is now marked at the point where it is heaviest, and finally tested in a further trough of mercury. Should the same defect be revealed, the ball is X-rayed to determine the extent of the flaw in the core and what form of operation is necessary to restore the balance of the ball.

In undergoing an operation the defective ball is placed in a rubber-jawed vice so as to hold it securely. The golf-ball "doctor" now takes up his hypodermic syringe and, turning to the point previously marked for operation, makes the necessary injection.

After the ball has stood for about forty-eight hours in a rack, so that the affected particles approximate, the "cure" is complete and the ball ready for play.

Because a golf ball owes its "life" to the rubber core, the greatest trouble that manufacturers have to contend with is the possibility that a core, however perfect in appearance, may be slightly out of balance at some point when the ball is built up complete.

The actual making of a core consists, of course, in winding and guiding rubber thread into the shape of a core in the same way as a ball of wool is wound. As a core weighs only about one ounce and contains upward of 1,800 yards of thread wound under tension, obtaining the perfect balance necessary is not so easy as it seems.

From time to time inventors have substituted rubber golf ball cores by liquid jelly, leather, cork, wood, vulcanite and even steel cores. But, despite the advantages claimed, the rubber core still retains its popularity.

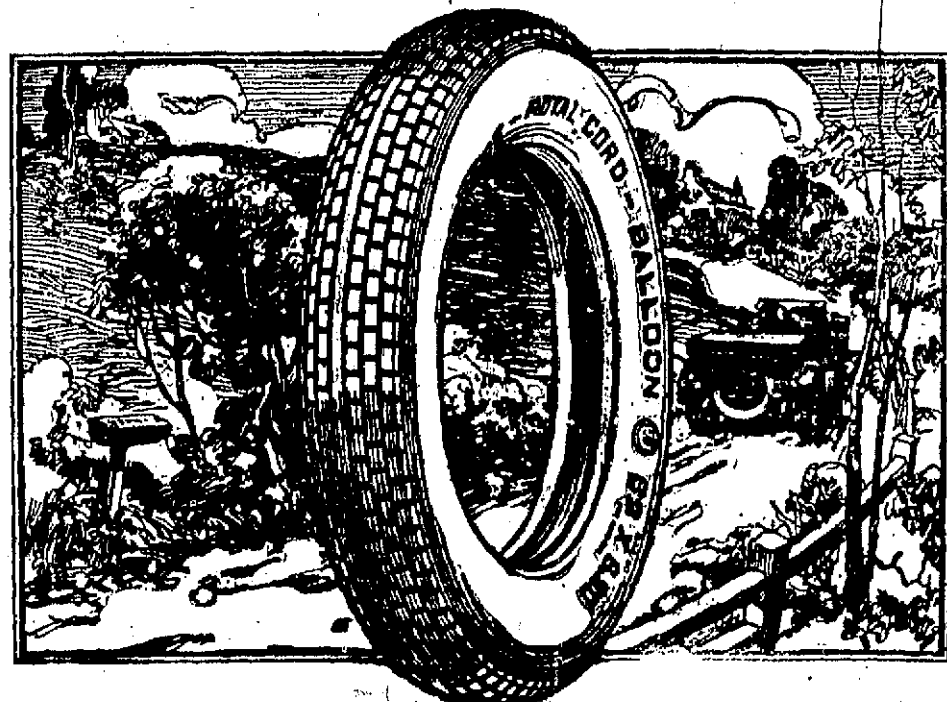

Pirates to Use Veteran Pitcher Adams as Coach

Babe Adams, veteran second artist of the Pirates, will not be the dependable pitcher this year as heretofore, according to the rumors in baseball circles.

The Babe has visited "Bonesetter" Reese, who has tried to repair the "old souper" and bring the Pirates "grand old man" back into shape.

According to reports the arm failed to respond to treatment, and now Manager McKenhenry is not counting on Adams to do more than coach the young pitchers and fill in occasionally in a pinch.

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

There are Balloon Tires—and Balloon Tires

BY this time the facts about the advantages of Balloon Tires are pretty well known and accepted.

Briefly—almost perfect shock absorption, easier riding, higher speed over rough roads, less wear and tear on the car, increased braking effect, decreased tendency toward skidding. The question of balloon tires comes down to this:

(1) Do they give service?
(2) Should I get them?
In so far as U.S. Royal Cord Balloon Tires are concerned, the answer to the first question is emphatically "Yes". They are made by the largest rubber organization in the world and one of the largest producers of low air pressure tires. They are built of latex-treated cords by the method developed, patented and owned by the makers of U. S. Tires. They have the combination of flexibility and strength which is the first and foremost requisite. They are accurately balanced—safe and easy to steer at all speeds.

Now for the second question: Before you attempt to answer it, or let anyone answer it for you in an advertisement or booklet, you should see the U. S. Sales and Service Dealer. He is in close touch with the nearest U. S. Branch and can help you to determine whether you should change to U. S. Royal Cord Balloon Tires (for 20 and 21 inch rims)—U. S. Royal Cord Balloon-Type Tires (built to fit present wheels and rims)—or stick to U. S. Royal Cord High Pressure Tires.

It depends a great deal on your car and how you use it. See the U. S. Sales and Service Man.

Playgrounds Ball League Scheduled To Open Up Today

The playgrounds baseball league was scheduled to open this morning at 9 o'clock. The first game listed was one between the West Side and North End, to be played at Fayette Field.

The baseball league was one of the big features of the playgrounds last year and it bids to again become one of the leading attractions.

NO NEED TO STAY HOME TO COOK, AT SCOTSDALE, 4TH

Ample Provision Being Made for Serving Lunches at Public Stands.

PROGRAM ABOUT READY

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, June 21.—Professional boxers are being brought to Scottdale for the 50th anniversary celebration. There will be two in the afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock at Loucks Park.

By this evening or tomorrow the entire program will be completed. The hour of 12 to 1 is given over to lunch, and the hour of 5 to 6 to dinner. At these hours there will be nothing scheduled. People are asked not to cook but give the day over to the mothers, girls, and kiddies. Twelve stands will be placed about the grounds. They will take care of all the visitors and everybody in Scottdale, too. This will be the only place that any money can be spent in Scottdale on July Fourth. Every amusement is free.

Professional vaudeville performers are being brought out to town. During the morning they will entertain in Spring street; in the afternoon at Loucks Park.

Races are being planned for children of all ages. Cash prizes are being offered.

Headquarters at the corner of Third and Chestnut street is a busy place these days.

All that is needed to make the affair a success is the weather to be favorable.

Four Baptized.
Four persons, two men and two women, were immersed at the Y. M. C. A. pool on Sunday afternoon by Rev. G. S. Baggett, pastor of the Jacobs Creek Methodist Episcopal Church. The people who were baptized were members of the Scottdale Methodist Episcopal Church.

Improvements at Y. M. C. A.
Arrangements are being made to enlarge the boy's department at the Y. M. C. A. A part of the lobby is to be closed off for a boys' reading room. A meeting place is being made for the Boy Scouts of town. Two troops are already formed and a third is in process of organization. A radio set will be installed.

Old Society Meeting.
There will be a called meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church at the church on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. J. M. Zimmers.

J. M. Zimmers has returned from Toronto, Can., where he was the official representative of the Scottdale Rotary Club at the International Meeting. While at Toronto he met a Texas man whom he learned was a former Westmoreland convict, a brother of Mrs. John Kelschman of Mulberry street.

Hutch Yarn Schedule.

The following arrangements have been made in connection with Hutch Yarn, the Presbyterian camp. Any person going there on Sunday must reach there before 9 o'clock so that they are in time for Sunday school. Provision can not be made at camp unless previously arranged for.

No Man Stronger Than His Stomach

Dare's Menthin Peppin is Helping Thousands Every Day.

No man is stronger than his stomach for if the stomach does not digest food properly the nourishment that goes to make blood and bone brain and brawn is sidetracked and passes from the system without giving the body the benefit of its vital life giving elements.

For indigestion, chronic or acute, for gas, sourness, heaviness and that feeling of suffocation every sufferer fears, time has proven that there is nothing so speedy in its action and so certain to correct the trouble as Dare's Menthin Peppin.

It's a wonderful compound of potent with menthol and other stomach correctives and body tonics and gives it the power to overcome stomach ailments and turn run-down, worn-out stomachs into new, healthy ones.

In one small New Jersey town last year over 5,000 bottles were sold and drugstore in this part of the country report a big sale for this pleasant tasting yet sure acting stomach corrective.—Advertisement.

Bootlegger Queen Being Sought in Gangster Killing

By United Press
PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—A woman known as "Blanche," said to be queen of Philadelphia bootleggers, is being sought by police for questioning in the hope she might throw light on the murder of "Dapper" Tommy Doyle a gangster.

Doyle's body, riddled with bullets, was found Sunday in a cemetery in South Philadelphia. A bunch of weeds had been placed in the man's hands in the form of a funeral bouquet.

Less than two months ago Doyle was released in $10,000 bail of Atlantic City where he had been arrested in a jewel robbery.

INCREASE IN USE OF MILK SEEN IN SURVEY
Consumption in 1923 Was 53 Gallons Per Home.

Washington.—Consumption of fluid milk and cream in both farm and city homes has been increasing rapidly for several years, a survey just completed by the United States Department of Agriculture indicates. Average consumption in 1923 was 53 gallons, compared with 50 gallons in 1922 and 46 gallons in 1921. The average daily consumption in 1923 figures out 1.4 pints per person.

Farm people who have producing cows consume more milk and cream than do city people, but farm folk without cows or with nonproducing cows consume less than do city folk, the survey shows.

Average per capita consumption on farms having cows was 1.78 pints in 1923, in farms without cows or having nonproducing cows the average consumption was .775 of a pint, and in city homes the per capita daily consumption average .87 of a pint.

The farm figures were tabulated from approximately 80,000 schedules of consumption on individual farms, and represent the most comprehensive survey ever made of milk and cream consumption. Data on consumption in cities was obtained principally from boards of health and covered nearly 800 cities, or about 25,000,000 persons.

There are 8,000,000 coffee cows and 750,000 ton cows in the United States, according to statistics of the department. That is the quantity of milk and cream used in tea and coffee is equivalent to the production from that many cows. Coffee consumption is around 1,000,000,000 pounds annually, or approximately 10,000,000,000 cups. This requires 40,000,000,000 ounces of cream, the milk equivalent to which is 12,500,000,000 pounds, or practically one-eighth the total production of milk in the United States.

At Last!
WINDOW SHADES
YOU CAN WASH!

Being waterproof, they can be washed whenever they become soiled.

These shades cannot be damaged by wind or rain.

What homemaker hasn't wished, hundreds of times, that she could take her window shades down and wash them? For years our customers have been asking—"Isn't there some kind of shades that can be cleaned, and that won't wrinkle or spot with the slightest touch of water?"

At last we can answer—"Yes!" A window shade material has been made that you can scrub with soap and water, that will dry out smooth and flat after being soaked with rain—that will not crack no matter how severely it is blown about by the wind. And we not only have it in stock but we have, ourselves, given it every test and proved to our own satisfaction that it is a cleanable, permanent window shade cloth that keeps its beauty indefinitely.

It is the result of four years of research and experiment by a manufacturing concern of world-wide reputation. It sets a new standard for window shades and costs but a trifle more than the old styles of shading materials which had to be frequently renewed.

This store guarantees it to be all we have claimed for it and this store has the exclusive distributing rights in this community. A full assortment of colors including the most desirable Duplex styles is now available in all widths up to 72 inches.

This store maintains its own shade making workroom with the latest appliances for doing the highest grade of work, and every shade we make is guaranteed. Our facilities permit us to accept and execute window shading contracts for schools, hospitals, apartment houses, hotels, and other large public buildings as well as for homes of any size or for a single window.

THE VUDOR Ventilating Shade
The VUDOR Ventilating shade is entirely different from any other shade on the market. It has a ventilator woven in the top of the shade itself—see illustration at right. This ventilator allows the heated air to pass out freely from underneath the ceiling of the porch while the remainder of the shade, being closely woven, protects one from the rays of the sun.

SELF-HANGING
With our patented Self-Hanging fixtures you simply hang the shade in position upon staples previously driven through the VUDOR printed paper pattern which comes rolled in each shade. No measuring, no boring, no screws, no screwdriver. Unhook the shades in the Fall; hook them up again in the Spring.

BEAUTIFUL COLORS
All VUDOR Porch Shades are made in beautiful permanent oil colors to harmonize with any home, and with care VUDOR Porch Shades will last from six to ten years or more.
